KINGPIN CHERMSIDE PRESENTS AUSTRALIAN FIRST INTERACTIVE GAMING EXPERIENCE.

The enemies might be virtual, but the battle is real.

Brisbane, QLD: Altered Reality Gaming has arrived in Australia - and it's launching at Kingpin Chermside on May 4th, 2019. FarRoam, brought to you by software company Lightweave, is the first of its kind in Australia and is set to revolutionise interactive gaming.

FarRoam is the first game to be played in Kingpin's Altered Reality arenas. The game has a number of unique features that transform the laser tag arenas. The Roamer Gaming Screen's exact environmental mapping superimposes virtual reality onto the physical environment. VoIP communication facilitates collaborative gameplay between team members, while surround sound enhances the sensory experience. All of these factors combine to provide an enhanced, yet hyper-realistic environment for gameplay.

FarRoam gameplay includes options for multiplayer (player vs player), or single play (player vs computer), with features to support competitive or cooperative play. There are several different environments available, each capable of hosting a variety of gameplay options such as Battle Royale and Capture The Flag.

Kingpin

Kingpin is a multi-attraction entertainment experience like no other. Each centrally located venue offers guests a truly unique experience with fully licensed bars, the latest music, escape rooms, karaoke, Kingpong, state of the art bowling lanes, with huge projection screens, indoor laser skirmish arenas, and pool tables.
